

Task 4. Find all examples of *modal verb SHOULD used with the past reference. When do we use such a structure? What is the true meaning hidden behind it?

Structure: _____

*Paraphrase the following sentences using “should have” structure.

- a) Why didn't you at least try to contact me?!
- b) It was stupid of you to eat all those pills! It could kill you.
- c) Why on earth were you so careless on the road?!
- d) You didn't tell me about your problems and now it's a bit too late to help you.
- e) He got injured because he was riding too fast.

- a) _____
- b) _____
- c) _____
- d) _____
- e) _____

Task 5. Look at the following examples of conditional sentences related to this accident. Which conditional type do they represent?

If the pilot had landed in the opposite direction on the runway, facing a headwind, the plane would likely not have overshoot it.

The crash would likely not have occurred if the anti-skid system had been functioning correctly, investigators said.